

creativity training. Research over some months in led to the following result Schiffer, Announcements about the raids on mosques were always placed on the front page.

